HUPP OFFICIAL PREDICTS AUTOMOBILE SHORTAGE

A shortage of automobiles this summer is predicted by Sales Manager J. E. Flelds of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation. "The country is taking automobiles of the better and popular types faster than the factories are able to produce them," says Mr. Fields, "All winter the manufacturers have been strug-It gling with the freight car shortage, locan't even irritate the skin or flesh. but this summer it will be the con-For a few cents one can now at sumer who will suffer from the shortage of the better makes of automocreases in the prices of all the classos of cars has not slackened to any no ticeable degree the demand for ma-

We enjoyed in the first months of 1917 the largest quarter in Hupmobile history, yet we were nearly 2,000 cars ehind our orders for immediate shipment. There is no chance for us to catch up with our orders now during the entire summer. It is simply a question of speeding production as much as the limitations of the material market will permit.

SPECIALIZE ON ROADSTERS.

Longenecker & Sanders, distributors the Abbott care, are specializing for the Abbott cars, are specialising this week on their four-passeners Club Roadster. J. E. R. Hasbrouck, sales, manager, states that inasmuch as this four-passenger roadster is the most popular type of car for this serson, they are specialising for the balance of the month on these four-passenger models while they can be sold at the old price. After the last of May the price will be radiators as the best in their respective character.

MAXWELL SAVES GASOLINE.

Using a Maxwell touring car which or two years had been battered day and night in a fleet of mountain stage coaches in Southern California, Clarcocca Bradshaw of San Diego has just antualned a new official American record for grasoline economy by piloting his Maxwell over 46.5 miles of ordinary road going with one gallon of fuel.
This record was made in a competition of thirty Maxwell desiers to capture for their make a cup offered for the best showing made.

Bradshaw's, like all other cars, carried two official observers. The conditions of the competition required that every car entered be a strictly stock model.

Your Unrestricted Choice of Women's & Misses' 19.50 & 22.50 Suits at

This season's smartest and most distinctive styles and fabrics.

We cannot emphasize the importance of this event too strongly. It presents a splendid opportunity to choose-AT A SUBSTANTIAL SAVING-from a large variety of up-to-theminute styles that even at their regular prices were exceptional value.

Whether your preference is for a fancy trimmed or a severely tailored suit, the assortment is so wide that you are sure to be suited.

The two illustrated give but a hint of the up-to-dateness of the styles. To fully appreciate the true value of this offering, the garments must be examined for quality and workmanship, tried on for fit

The suits are developed in excellent quality of the materials now in vogue, such as:

Poplin, Serge & Gabardine

The season's newest colorings are liberally represented as well as Navy and Black. All are richly lined with peau de cygne or fancy novelty silks.

All sizes for women and misses are included in the entire selection, though not in each individual style. To come early, therefore, is to get first choice.
